

Faces & Places we remember

Off the Wall, the premier modern contemporary art gallery in Llandaff, presents their “Faces & Places” show from October 22nd – 10th November

Established artists such as Michael Monaghan, and emerging, but talented artists such as Ciara Lewis, Eloise Govier and Samantha Williams will all be presenting works that reflect many “Faces & Places”.

For Michael, the ‘art’ of painting is in the exploring of shape, form, texture, perspective and colour with oil paint. A simple, mundane scene is considered and the details revealed in a new light that challenges the cursory glance that people give to them.

Cardiff born Samantha Williams graduated with a B.A. Hons in Ceramics from Howard Gardens in 2007. Her beautifully sculpted pieces have been inspired by extensive travel.

Nefertiti Samantha Williams

The work of Elfyn Lewis, winner of the Gold medal for fine art at this year’s Eisteddfod, will also be featured. The selectors considered Lewis to be at the height of his work. His art has a contemporary relevance and a highly focused ‘process’ approach which produces beautiful objects that, whilst being abstract and formal, are also able to evoke elements of landscape and memory.

The “Faces & Places” show will provide a rich source of beautiful but very different works from a number of highly talented and skilled artists using a wide range of media.

A private show is on Thursday 22nd October, 6-8pm and to obtain an invitation or confirm your attendance, contact the gallery at art@galleryoffthewall.com or telephone 02920554469.
