▪ Exclusive fine arts and antiques event returns to The NEC

---

The National Fine Art and Antiques Fair will return to the NEC from 20th to 24th January 2010.

The UK's most prestigious event of its kind outside London is home to the country's finest examples of art and antiques at the NEC.

Supported by LAPADA, the Association of Art & Antiques Dealers, the fair brings around 90 leading dealers together to offer visitors an extensive variety of the finest antiques, decorative period accessories, objets d'art and fine art.

The impressive fair sees The NEC turned into a stylish and dramatic showcase, with more than 10,000 visitors from across the world. Whilst the setting and tone epitomises luxury, there will be art and antiques for sale spanning 2,000 years and at prices ranging from under £500 to over £100,000.

Visitors can enjoy the fair's top quality dealers who display the most desirable furniture, paintings, silver, porcelain, jewellery and exquisite works of art. Items on sale are carefully vetted by teams of independent experts to ensure authenticity and the best quality.

The National Fine Art & Antiques fair opens at 11am on Wednesday 20th January and runs until Sunday 24th January 2010. Tickets are priced at £12 or £10 in advance and include free car parking and visitor guide.
