

ALISON CHAPLIN – LONDON TREES / ROB LOVELL – NEW WORK

12-17 April 2010, daily 10am-8pm

Private Views – 12&13 April, 7-10pm

Gallery 27

27 Cork Street, London, W1S 3NG

Two exciting new London artists bring their work to the West End.

With very different styles, but the same energy and strength, Alison Chaplin and Rob Lovell showcase their recent work in an exhibition on the renowned Cork Street.

'Five Giants of the Forest' Alison Chaplin

'Parliament Hill Fields' Rob Lovell

Alison's beautiful and dynamic paintings pay homage to the ancient, spirited trees that inhabit the 'Lungs of London', Epping Forest. The isolated figures set against the stark winter sky are both haunting and refreshing, simultaneously attaching a sense of life and death to the world we co-habit with them.

Rob's paintings seek to convey a sense of time and place using abstraction and colour out of a tradition of English landscape with a soft interweaving of narrative and memory.
