After more than 20 years exhibiting paintings and drawings, Nicola Grellier now presents ‘new collage, old places’. A long obsession with crumbling, often crenellated elderly buildings, with glimpses of text and with fleeting moments of current history which come together in a riotous spillage of colour and words.

'Whispers' 2010

'Popseye' 2010

Grellier studied at Wimbledon and Chelsea Schools of Art in the 1980's. She lives and works in West London and will also be exhibiting in The Discerning Eye at Mall Galleries 11-21 Nov.
