

ROSEMARY CLUNIE

"An artist of mood and form and meditation." (Ben Okri)

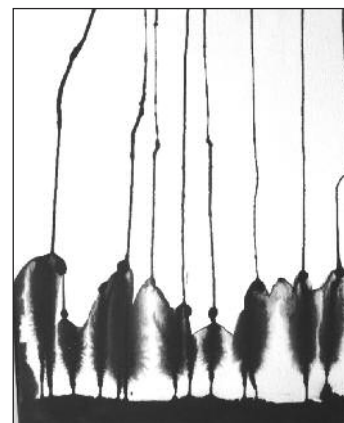

New Paintings

Exhibition at The Menier Gallery, 51 Southwark St, SE1
14 -19 November 2011, Private View: 16 November 6-8.30 pm

Rosemary Clunie is a painter, printmaker and video artist, born in Scotland and living in Hampstead. She has exhibited at the World Economic Forum in Davos amongst other places. She has recently written: "Painting for me is an adventure in colour and form, a quest for a glimpse into the unknown. I paint, from my imagination, stories that can be told in no other way, as universally and economically as I can. From 1990 to 2000 I painted with oils. Since 2001 I have been inspired by the spontaneity and freedom of working on paper with acrylic, pastels and silk collage."
