

Press Release

This October the Hampshire Artists Cooperative will be exhibiting in the Watts Gallery, Godalming, Surrey. We are thrilled to be showing work at this historic Arts & Crafts period venue, and looking forward to bringing our work to a wider audience. The exhibition will feature the following artists:

Penny Adams - painting
Toni Goffe - painting
Maggie Marten - painting
Sue Collyer - painting
David Wade - painting
Ann Hollaway - drawing
Pam Newick - printmaking
Sue Pither - printmaking
Angela Carter - ceramics
Nina Peskett - ceramics
June Duckworth - ceramic sculpture
John Phillipson - ceramic sculpture
Ruta Brown - jewellery
Sarah Riall - jewellery and glass
Julia Little - textiles

Set up in 2007, the Cooperative has been successfully running the Selborne Gallery, Hampshire establishing a popular following. Presenting new exhibitions five times a year as well as exhibiting in other venues we have established a good reputation and look forward to this new venture at Watts.

The Watts Gallery hosts acclaimed exhibitions by G F Watts and his contemporaries, as well as a tea shop and visitor centre so there is a wealth to see there.

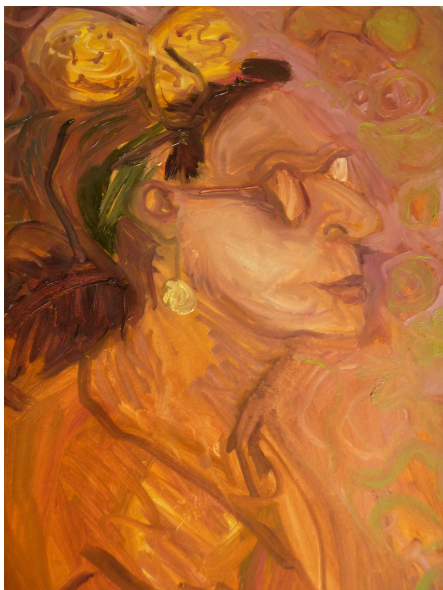

For further information on the cooperative and this exhibition, please email info@hampshireartistscooperative.com

Pam Newick: Crocus Vernus

Ann Hollaway: Shire

Maggie Marten: Lady with Bow

Toni Goffe: St Michaels Mount

Penny Adams : Bees

Ruta Brown: Broach

Sarah Broadhead-Riall: Crinkly Bowl

June Duckworth: Woodpecker

Sue Pither: Stubble

Sue Collyer: Trees