More than the eye can see ...

The first UK exhibition by French - Burkinabe artist Mouss, presenting 30 works imbued with the essence of places, moments, and memories, and the trace they leave in the soul.

Born into a family tradition of dyers, Mouss is entirely self-taught and is constantly experimenting to develop new techniques.

He paints with both his left and right hand, at times holding several paint brushes simultaneously. ...

He prepares his own paints with natural pigments and plants mixed with oil, and also works with acrylics, and liquid wax followed by dye baths. Some works are mixed medium.

'sculpting matter'

With his innate love for color and matter, Mouss likens the art of painting to sculpture, when working to create depth, movement, and balance.
