Born in 1941 Iran, Atta has a life-long passion for art. Growing up he filled his days with inspiration and exploration beginning at an early age while studying great masters of the world.

He studied at Tehran University and achieved his scholarship as an accountant and auditor.

His passion for painting took a new turn when in 1987 he left Iran and was admitted to immigrate to England as an artist.

Atta's art has been exhibited nationally and regionally in galleries and high end boutiques.

Atta's paintings are renowned for their realism and attention to detail. Subject, lighting and style vary greatly with the painting artist, which is why there is usually something for everyone within his artwork.

From landscape painting and portraiture to still life painting he enjoys working in many medians.
